Lamp Insurance

Running a wire from a ceiling fixture to a floor or table lamp is likely to do two things. It may give an untidy appearance to the room that should be the most attractive in the home. It is usually in the way, and likely to result in breaking the lamp. Convenience outlets will eliminate both of these troubles.

HELP FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS TO BUILD

BUILDING A SMOKELESS FIREPLACE

By the Architects' Small Home Service Bureau of the United States, Inc.

Everybody knows the place for the smoke from a fireplace is in the chimney. Everybody knows also that it does not always go there.

There are enough smoky fireplaces to make it probable that your fireplace may turn out to be a smoky one. This is a question seriously interesting to you.

What makes the smoke come out into the room rather than go up the flue where it belongs? Let us see.

To Make Smoke Go Up

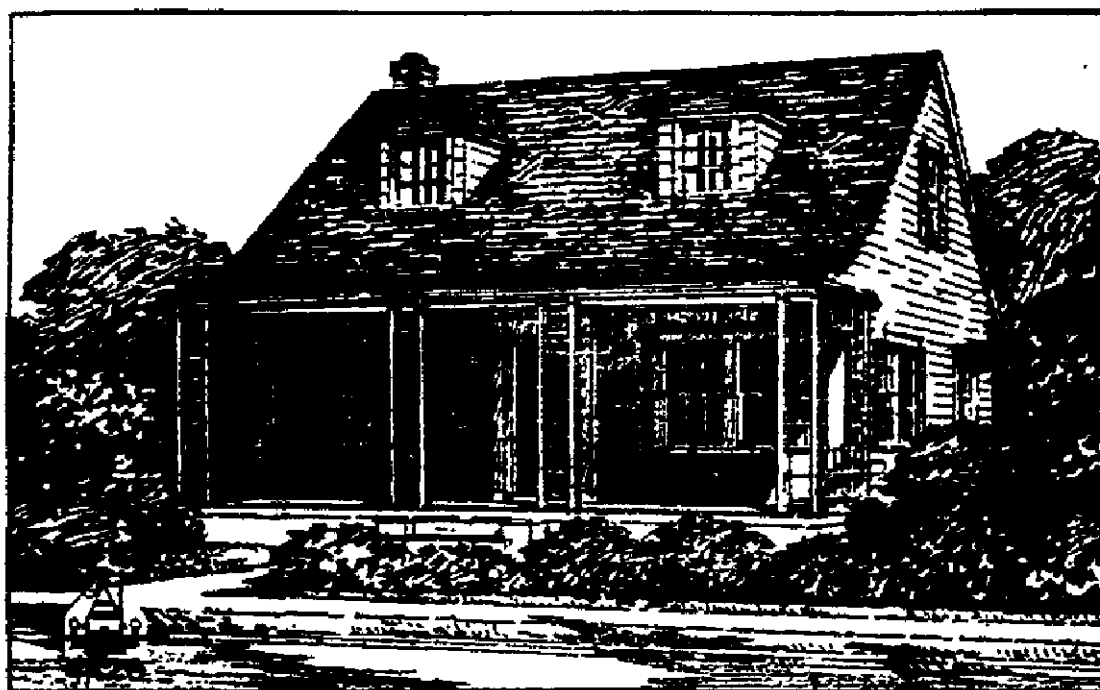

First let us think of a fireplace as a kind of a masonry cavern made fireproof so that a fire can be built there with impunity. If you run this fireplace straight up through the roof so that there is no obstruction anywhere, the smoke certainly ought to go up without any question. Suppose the fireplace is only six inches deep; then the fire itself must come out at least to the face of this masonry cavern, and the smoke would just as easily go out into the room as up the flue. If the fireplace arch is very high with this shallow depth, perhaps, all of the smoke would rise the flue. On the other hand, let us suppose that the fireplace is three or four feet in depth and the arch very low. There would then be no question that all the smoke would go up the flue. Quite evidently the depth and the height of the fireplace have something to do with this matter of final direction of the smoke.

We can state two very simple rules in this connection. First, the minimum open depth of any fireplace from front to back is 21 inches. Second, the depth of the fireplace with a masonry throat must be at least two-thirds as great as the height of the fireplace opening. There you have a very definite way to associate proper sizes for the fireplace. As you raise the height of the opening, you must increase the depth of the hearth. If you have a great fireplace large enough to walk into—six feet or more in height—you would require a minimum depth of four feet. If the height is 36 inches, then the depth should be at least 24 inches.

Heat for the Room

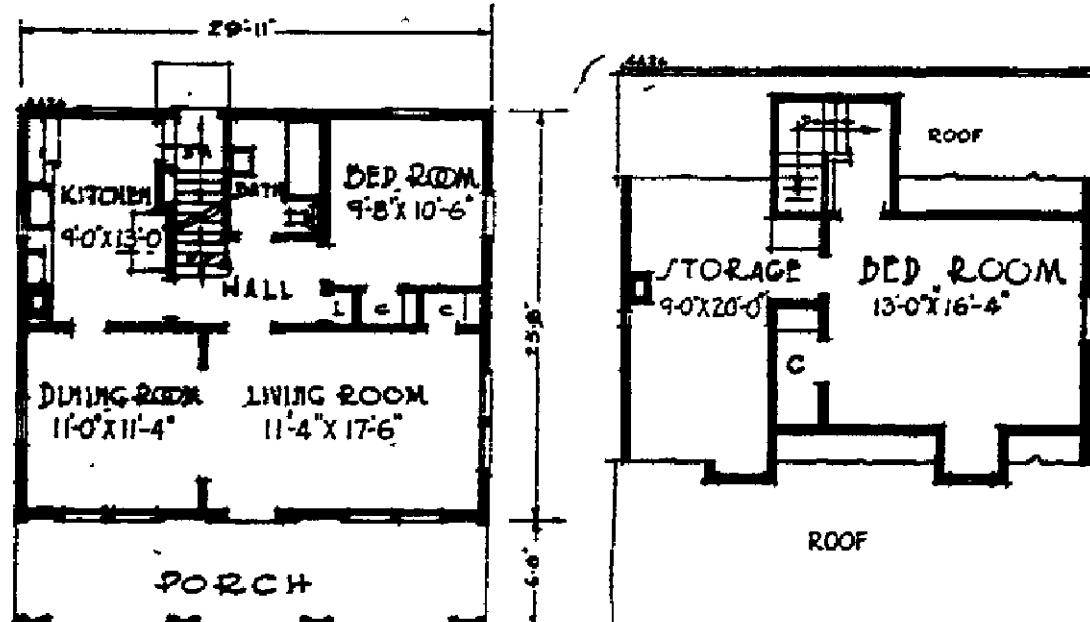

The second consideration is the connection between the fireplace and the flue. If we run the fireplace directly into the flue without the least obstruction, and if all the details are handled properly, all the smoke will go up. But all the heat will go up also. The problem is to get all the smoke out and reflect some of the heat back where you are sitting—in the hall light perhaps, with your children on your knee.

WHAT YOU MAY WANT TO KNOW ABOUT BUILDING

Questions addressed to the paper will be answered by the Architects' Small Home Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., controlled by the American Institute of Architects and endorsed by the department of commerce, United States government. Inclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Q—What are the fundamental things necessary to a complete set of specifications and a building contract?

A—The specifications should tell the quality of all the materials that are to be used and the quality of workmanship that is to be applied. It should also cover all the general conditions relating to the contract. We advise you to secure the "Contract Form" and the "General Conditions of the Contract" recommended by The American Institute of Architects. The latter should be made part of your specifications. These forms may be secured from any first class stationer or from The American Institute of Architects, Octagon House, Washington, D. C.

Building hints for the man who wants to build will be found in a book issued by The News at small cost to you.

Bring Your Bathing Suit, Win Prize at News Water Carnival

CONWAY AMONG JUDGES TODAY

Program Scheduled to Start At 6 o'Clock Sharp

Two boats have been secured to pull the daring and graceful riders. Not only is this even open to girls in a class of their own, but a swimming race as well as a diving race is being conducted for girls only today. A considerable number of prizes especially suitable for girls were secured with this in view.

From the standpoint of the contest, the most thrilling probably will be the quarter mile swim for the distance championship of Port Arthur. The most expert swimmers of the town are expected to compete in this event. The first prize is a bathing suit.

Last year the carnival was held at the Plaza nautatorium, but the crowd was so large that it was felt all should be given a chance to see the events this year, and the site was changed to the Richmond avenue location on the canal. The carnival is being made an annual affair.

Remember the time today—6 to 7:30. One and one-half hours good time is assured to all turning out.

Today's program, with prizes, is as follows:

50-Yard Race, Men and Boys—First prize, bathing suit, Mike O'Brien; second prize, pair boys' tennis shoes, P. A. Sport Store.

Dame Fashion Says Hats Most Important Factor In the Feminine Wardrobe

HATS are the most important factor in the feminine wardrobe. A woman is made or marred by her hat. The beauty in an unbecoming hat becomes an ugly duckling, and the ugly duckling in a hat becomes, if not a beauty, an attractive person.

Gowns have little to do with one's beauty. A pretty woman looks as well in a gingham apron as in an expensive beaded frock. Gowns cannot accentuate beauty to any great extent. But hats are the flatterers of feminine wardrobe.

So far this season, the cloche-shaped hat has been the leader of the millinery world. But milliners say that the time has come for the cloche to go and one wonders what will supplant the cloche. However much one is certain the large summer hat is just a trifle smarter than the cloche-shaped at present.

Large leghorn bows, pressed straw and fancy braids are already being worn by the better dressed women on warm days. Trimmings on such hats are rather inconspicuous, being placed flat on the upper or under brim. The single flower trim is popular where one large flat rose is placed either on the upper or under brim. Ribbon trimmings are also popular. Garlands and wreaths which extend entirely about the crown are not being used this season. In all instances, the large hat is much more important than its trimmings.

Of the dressy hats, those of tortoise colored horsehair trimmed in single flower trimmings and worn with the popular tortoise-horned frocks are especially lovely. So many of the best dressed women are wearing frocks of light brown tones for dressy wear that the large hat or brown horsehair or lace is conspicuous in its loveliness.

Leghorns are popular for summer wear this season and these differ from leghorns of past seasons in coloring and trim. The smartest leghorns are tinted in pastel shades, such as yellow, pale green, light brown or dull orange. When tinted in color the leghorn is but slightly trimmed. Perhaps there is a velvet ribbon bow of a darker shade than the hat placed on one side of the brim.

Many believe that the solution of the hat problem is already solved in the newer cloche-shaped models, which turn off the face in front and, at the same time, keep up the small head-shaped lines, which the bobbed head demands. Trimming is growing higher and the up-turned cloche is effective with the high front trim of ribbon or feathers.

Felts retain their popularity. They rule completely for sports wear, where the straw hat has no place whatever this season. Felts are also more popular than other types for suit wear.

It is predicted that fall will see the return of the off-the-face hat of Russian effect.

Many summer hats of wide brim turn abruptly upwards in back. Cloche brims grow narrower and turn upwards in front. While felt hats of small cloche shapes self-trimmed rule for summer sportswear.

Colored bangkok hats, underlined with crepe de chene, are very popular for summer. Handpainted bangkok hats with scarfs to match are also shown.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY WATERMELON FEAT

A jolly crowd of young people, chaperoned by Mrs. W. L. McNeill and Capt. and Mrs. Don Allen, motored to Port Arthur Saturday evening and enjoyed a delightful watermelon feast at the park, the outing being arranged in compliment to J. B. and Jerry Kent of Overland, La. J. B. Kent was a former Port Arthurian.

Those enjoying the pleasing affair were Misses Martha Black, Aline Winn, Louise Shults of Beaumont, Myrtle Prudhomme, Martha McNeill, Pearl McNeill, Margaret Ward, Mildred Savon, Agnes Youngblood, Betty Allen, a screen version of "Plaster Saints," the popular novel by Frederick Arnold Kummer and is proving popular as the novel, according to screen reports.

Stars appearing in the cast are Betty Blythe, Lowell Sherman, Elliott Dexter, Pauline Garon, Robert Warwick and Burr McIntosh. "A good movie plot"—Photoplay Magazine for July.

"HALF-A-DOLLAR-BILL" A mystery story of the sea is "Half-a-Dollar-Bill," now showing at the Cameo and featuring Anne Q. Nilsson supported by a prominent cast.

"Half-a-Dollar-Bill" has the plot which brings a mother to leave her infant on a ship captain's door step. Following the child on the high seas with the gruff captain playing a forced role of mother is interesting. How the mother finally gets back her child in the climax achieved through out the plot.

"Interesting and well-played story of wail adopted by a sea captain."—Photoplay Magazine for July.

RADIO WEATHER REPORTS START

Gulf Station to be Used By Weather Station

Broadcasting of weather bulletins for the benefit of shipping in the western Gulf of Mexico from the Gulf Refining company's radio station started today. Ernest Carson, U. S. weather bureau man here, said.

Master of vessels can intercept these bulletins, which are broadcast from Port Arthur today for the first time, and complete a daily weather map showing weather conditions to be experienced during the following 36 hours and the location of storm areas with a forecast of their future movement, Carson said.

Start Daily at 10:45

The bulletin broadcasted from the Gulf station here is scheduled to go out each day, including Sundays and holidays, at 10:45 a. m., and will be based upon observations taken at 7 a. m., 90th meridian time. Carson said. A second part of each bulletin will consist of a forecast of the winds and weather over the west Gulf of Mexico, storm warnings and all hurricane notices when issued.

Stations to be included on the first part of the bulletin going out from Port Arthur, with their indicated key-letters are as follows: Brownsville, B. V. Corpus Christi, C. C.; Galveston, G. V.; Port Arthur, P. A.; New Orleans, NO; Mobile, MO.; Key West, K. The call letters of the Gulf company station here are W. F. A., and the daily weather bulletins will go out on a wavelength of 900 meters, spark, Carson said.

Simple Code Used

During the first week it is planned to broadcast the names of the stations as well as the key-letters. Following the key letters in the bulletin will be a five unit group of figures, which will indicate barometric pressure related to sea level and expressed in three figures: wind direction expressed in one figure; and wind force (Beaufort scale) expressed in one figure, "except when the wind is above 9 the figure will be spelled out. Thus if the actual corrected pressure is 29.95 inches, the figures 995 are sent, or if the reading is 30.25 inches, the figures 025 are sent.

THIS BRIGHT BABY GIRL

Brought Joy to Home. Mrs. Price's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scotoc, Pa.—"I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year and a half ago. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles, and my aunt thought it would help me as it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought things right, and I was in good shape before I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with both my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I thank you a thousand times for the good your medicine has done me."

Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scotoc, Pa. Lockhaven, Pa.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use.

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will sweeten the stomach and thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cold, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of colic, children love its pleasant taste. It never cramps or overacts. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.—Adv.

Actual construction work on the $5,000 Sunday school unit of the new Central Baptist church edifice will be started the latter part of this week on the site selected at Ninth street and DeQueen boulevard, Rev. T. E. Connery, pastor, said.

On the upper floor of the two-story unit will be an auditorium with a seating capacity of about 300, a balcony to be built around three sides of the auditorium. Sunday school class rooms will occupy the lower floor of the building, and a few class rooms will be included on the second floor.

Concrete foundations and floorings on the first floor will be laid so that at some future time the congregation can put a brick veneer on their church building. While no definite plans for construction on the main auditorium unit have yet been made, this part of the building will be built later.

Two lots were purchased by the congregation as the site for the church building, and a small house on one of these lots has been moved to a back corner and will be used for Sunday school classes and other church activities, Rev. Connery said.

No. 5—MRS. WOODCHUCK'S PHOTOGRAPH

Nick set a chair for Mrs. Woodchuck in front of a curtain.

Happy Go Lucky Park was very popular. Nancy and Nick and Mister Zip were as busy as robins after a rain storm, keeping it in order and having things all spick and span when the wood folk and meadow folk began to arrive with their pennies and lunches to spend the day.

"Well, I declare," said Mister Zip one day, when he was taking tickets at the gate. "If here doesn't come Mrs. Woodchuck all dressed up in her Sunday best."

"How do you do, Mrs. Woodchuck. Oh! I'm pretty well, thank you," said Mrs. Woodchuck, breathlessly, for the ground hog lady was very fat and she had been hurrying. Here's my 10 cents to get in," she panted. "But I didn't come to ride on the merry-go-round or the roller coaster. I didn't even bring my lunch and I came off without the children because it's a secret."

"A secret?" exclaimed Nancy and Nick and Mister Zip all together. "Yes," nodded Mrs. Woodchuck. "A secret! The other day when I was here with Wally and the children, I saw a sign over there which said: Pictures taken while you wait. That's why I came today—to get my picture taken. Could you take my picture while I wait. Mister Zip, could you?"

"Of course!" smiled Mister Zip. "I certainly couldn't take it if you didn't wait, could I? But what is the secret about, Mrs. Woodchuck? There isn't any secret about getting your picture taken, is there?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," Mister Zip. "You see tomorrow is Wally's birthday and I want to surprise him."

"I see," said Mister Zip pleasantly. "Well we won't tell a soul, and Nick can take your picture. He is my general handy man, Nick is, and he can do everything almost."

"And I'll go with you to see if your powder is on straight and your hat is on your nose," said Nancy. "What?" shrieked Mrs. Woodchuck. "My hat on my nose, indeed!"

"She means that she'll see if your hat is on straight and your powder on your nose," corrected Mister Zip. "She got her words mixed."

And so talking and explaining and apologizing and painting the Twins finally got fat Mrs. Woodchuck to the place where it said "Pictures taken while you wait." And they were in!

Nick set a chair for Mrs. Woodchuck in front of a curtain and then went behind a big camera, to see how she looked. He put his head under a big black cloth and said, "Turn your head a little, Mrs. Woodchuck. That's just right. Now smile a little and show your teeth. That's just right. And now put your eyes up there where that little bird is."

"How can I put my eyes up where that little bird is when they're in my head, I'd like to know," demanded Mrs. Woodchuck.

It took a long time before Nancy and Nick could explain to the groundhog lady that Nick only meant for her to look at the little bird.

"Oh, is that it?" said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Well, go ahead then." And she sat down again in a better humor.

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

Launcelot Caught Up a Tree

The brave deeds of Sir Launcelot have been widely told. Today I want to speak of an adventure of his which has a bit of humor in it. This story and others were set down by an English writer more than 450 years ago. I shall use almost the same words as he did:

Sir Launcelot rode through many strange countries. He crossed mountains, hills, and valleys until he came near a castle. He heard bells tinkle. Looking up he saw a hawk flying toward a high elm tree. It had lines tied to its feet and became tangled in the tree.

Then came a lady out of the castle, crying:

"Oh, Launcelot, Launcelot! Help me get my hawk! My lord told me to care for it but I let it slip away. He will kill me if I do not return it."

Launcelot did not know she was a false dame, whose husband hated him. He said:

"Truly, I am an ill climber and the tree is high. There are few limes to help me, but I will do what I can to get your hawk."

He leapt to the ground and tied his horse to a tree. Then he threw down his spear, shield and sword, and asked the lady to help him get out of his armor.

Soon he had nothing on except his shirt and breeches. He began to climb the tree with all his might. Reaching the hawk, he tied the lines to a rotten branch, which he tossed to the ground. Thus the lady got back her falcon.

At this moment the lord of the castle came out from behind a clump of bushes.

"Now, Launcelot, I have thee as I wanted!" he cried. "Come down out of that tree and I will slay thee."

Launcelot turned to the lady, saying:

"Ah, fair lady, you have betrayed me."

"Speak not to her," said the lord. "She has only done as I told her. Come down and meet your death."

"It were shame to kill a knight who had no arms," said Launcelot. "Let me have only my sword and I will fight thee."

"Nay, nay: Your sword you shall not have."

Launcelot saw it was useless to ask for his sword. His heart was sick because he thought he would have to die. Then his eyes lighted up over a bunch of good sized without leaves. He broke it off and found to his joy that the wood was firm.

Making his way down the tree to the lowest limb, he waited his chance. Suddenly he jumped to the earth, lighting on the side of his horse away from the base of the tree.

The lord struck at him with his sword, but Launcelot warded the blow with the limb. Then he lifted his wooden weapon and smote his enemy on the head and he fell senseless to the ground.

The lady fainted at the sight. Before any of the lord's soldiers could come to the spot from the castle, Launcelot hustled into his armor, jumped on his horse and rode away.

A GYPSY DANCE

While Betty Cut-out was having her fortune told by the mother of the man and her father, the girl slipped inside one of their strange wagons and changed her dress from the dirty torn one she had been wearing.

"Oh, how nice you look!" cried Betty, and the girl smiled back at her. "What are you getting dressed up for?"

"I dance for you," replied the girl proudly. So while Betty and her father watched, she danced gaily to the music of a queer instrument like a guitar, which her brother played. "Now I show you something else," she said with a friendly smile.

Color the gypsy girl's dress orange with red, blue and green flowers. She wears also a bright blue shawl, red bands, and a red head-scarf. Tomorrow there will be more about the gipsies.

ASK SUSPENDED TERM FOR YOUTH

Jury in Robinson Case Is Selected at Kountze

Special to The News. KOUNTZE, July 15.—A suspended sentence will be part of the defense tactics in the case of Robert Robinson whose jury was selected here yesterday that will try him for the alleged murder of Mrs. Mollie Dudley early this year at Houston.

The case, which promises to not only thrill this peaceful village but to make history in criminal court annals of the state, got away to a last start before Judge J. M. Combs in the 75th district court Monday. Harris county was unable to get a jury at all but this procedure was of no consequence here as 12 men from 90 responding to the venire of 100 called were selected by late afternoon of the first day.

To Hear 46 Witnesses.
The setting is laid, the jury selected, 46 witnesses summoned and an array of legal talent, the best obtainable, lined up for the case. Taking of testimony will not begin until afternoon today as the case is being held pending arrival of a number of important witnesses from Houston this morning. The jury personnel follows:

L. A. Paulin, farmer, Honey Island, Gregg, McLuskin, oil field worker, Sour Lake.

J. B. Williams, farmer, Kountze, L. Trull, oil field worker, Sour Lake.

E. A. Barnes, oil field worker, Saratoga, W. S. Edwards, Gulf Production Co., Sour Lake.

J. W. Brodie, oil field worker, Saratoga.

C. V. Selman, cashier for the Southern Pacific Lines, Sour Lake.

R. S. Lusk, stationery engineer for the Gulf Pipe Line company, Sour Lake.

A. B. Myers, pipe line worker, Sour Lake.

George Rainier, grocery deliveryman, Silsbee.

J. M. Butler, foreman for the Hardin County Salt Water Co., Sour Lake.

According to Neil B. Morris, defense counsel, Robinson will offer a plea of not guilty and the defense will wait until the state's testimony is offered before deciding which of two general lines it will follow. One of these is an insanity plea and the other is the unwritten law, he said.

department here was notified today. The latest ban comes from the state livestock and sanitary commission headquarters at Fort Worth.

Beaumont, according to advice received here, has closed its abattoir to all Jefferson county stock. This means that all meats killed at Beaumont for home consumption must come from outside the quarantine area. The fact such little anthrax has been found here makes the present closing of the local abattoir unnecessary, Dr. Baker said today.

No New Cases Found

There were no new cases of the epidemic reported today. Dr. W. E. Litton, appointed by the local health department to administer the anthrax serum to all livestock at the request of owners whether they are able to pay or not, reported a heavy day Monday. Calls from all over the county and every part of the county came in hourly asking Dr. Litton's services in administering the vaccine, he said.

Practically every case of anthrax reported in this section has been among horses and mules, very few cattle being affected, Dr. Litton states.

That mosquito and flies can carry the anthrax germs is a fact but no cause for alarm, Dr. Baker said today.

"All warm blooded animals can be anthrax subjects but it is rare that humans are ever afflicted," he said.

defective forces, head by Chief W. W. Claxton, were to be held in a body.

Other city officials attended the last rites.

21 Years Resident Here

For the past 21 years Mr. Logan had made his residence in this city and was widely known here. His parents moved to Texas from Tennessee in 1840, and he was born June 17, 1845, in Polk county. With the exception of about 15 years spent in Grand Chien, La., Mr. Logan spent his entire life in Texas. He came to Port Arthur from Cedar Bayou, near Houston, and until his retirement from active business a number of years ago, operated a grocery store at 517 Sixth street.

Active and hale until his death, the passing of Mr. Logan was a shock to his family and friends. The end came peacefully, the result of a heart attack.

Major Summerson from Vacation

Major Logan received word Sunday morning as he was going to church at Grand Chien, where he was to spend a two weeks' vacation, and hastened back to Port Arthur. Other members of the family also were hastily summoned.

Surviving Mr. Logan are his widow, five sons, H. E. R. W. B. D. J. P. and N. S. Logan, all of Port Arthur; and N. S. Logan, of Beaumont; one daughter, Mrs. Preston Smith, of Port Arthur; two brothers, John S. Logan of Bay City, Texas; Robert C. Logan, of San Angelo, Texas; three sisters, Mrs. Ralph Smith, of San Marcos; Mrs. B. B. Rhodes, of Blessing, Mrs. Henry Madden, of Port Lavaca; and a number of grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the home of the deceased, 517 Sixth street.

Interment will be in the cemetery at Port Arthur.
